Dear Colleague,

We are happy to announce that the call for submissions is now open for the bi-annual CERE conference on the 5-6th of June 2020, organized by The Consortium of European Research on Emotion (CERE) at the University of Granada, Spain.

The CERE conference is an exciting opportunity to meet international colleagues, present your work, and to stay up-to-date with the latest developments in emotion research. At CERE conferences sound emotions research outputs from a wide range of disciplines including psychology, neuroscience, philosophy, sociology, linguistics, affective computing, history, anthropology, and design are debated. Moreover, CERE 2020 will feature several distinguished keynote speakers that will be disclosed soon.

If you would like to contribute to the CERE 2020 conference by presenting your research, we invite you to submit an abstract. Submissions are welcome from scholars in all relevant disciplines for symposia (4 to 6 papers around a common theme and are organized by a convener), open papers, and posters. Abstracts should be submitted online at the conference website. Please consult the submission guidelines before preparing your submission.

All abstracts will be subject to peer review by an international scientific committee; accepted abstracts will be published in the conference program. The deadline for
